The Holy Grail first appears in a written text in Chrétien de Troyes's Old French verse romance, the Conte del Graal ('Story of the Grail'), or Perceval, of c.1180.

A golden chalice, known as the Holy Grail, is depicted floating in a dark blue night sky filled with stars and the Milky Way. The chalice has a wide, shallow bowl and a short, fluted stem. Below the chalice, a dark mountain range is visible under a thin layer of clouds, with some distant lights and a small blue light source on the left. The overall scene is mystical and ethereal.

Search for the Holy Grail

A vibrant yellow bird is perched on a dark brown branch, its beak wide open as if singing. The bird's feathers are a bright, sunny yellow, with darker streaks on its wings. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green, punctuated by several white flowers with yellow centers, likely cherry blossoms. The overall mood is peaceful and natural.
